GeoFair Displays The Wonders Of Geology & Paleontology This Weekend At Butler County Fairgrounds

The wonders of geology and paleontology are on display – and for sale! – this weekend at the Butler County Fairgrounds as GeoFair, Cincinnati’s largest non-profit gem, mineral, fossil, and jewelry show welcomes one and all.

10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Saturday, May 16
Butler County Fairgrounds
1715 Fairgrove Avenue
Hamilton, Ohio 45011

11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Sunday, May 17
Butler County Fairgrounds
1715 Fairgrove Avenue
Hamilton, Ohio 45011

The 61st annual GeoFair theme is “Celebrating 250 years of America’s Minerals & Fossils” so visitors will enjoy exceptional specimens of amazing minerals and marvelous fossils reflecting our nation’s history.

More than 40 commercial vendors from as far away as Florida and Nevada will offer stunning items for sale, ranging from curiosities costing mere pennies to museum-quality specimens selling for thousands of dollars. Bring your fossils, minerals and jewelry for free identification.

Admission to GeoFair is $12 for adults and $5 for children. (Free admission is offered to uniformed Scouts, to qualifying 4-H members, and to teachers with identification and a paid adult companion.) A two-day adult pass is available for $18. (A coupon for $2 off adult admission may be downloaded at www.GeoFair.Com) Admission discounts for groups larger than 10 are available. The Butler County Fairgrounds offer abundant free parking.

Since 1965, GeoFair has introduced thousands of families to the pleasures of the earth sciences including collecting minerals and fossils, making jewelry and studying geology and paleontology. Dozens of displays showcase the rare “finds” of amateur collectors. GeoFair is produced by the Cincinnati Mineral Society and the Cincinnati Dry Dredgers, an association of amateur paleontologists. Proceeds from the show support the educational activities of the sponsoring organizations.
